The Wild Rumpus

Commodore's Comments

"And now," cried Max, "let the wild rumpus start!"

Several of our friends here at Birch Lake have graduated from high school or college this year. Even though they're not our own children, it's difficult not to be proud of them. We've watched them grow up over the years and to see them today, well, it's hard not to feel kind of old. I suppose that won't get better. In any case, congratulations to all of our graduates.

Be sure to join us Saturday June 15 at 7 pm for the Commodore and Vice Commodore Cocktail Party at the Yacht Club. There's a "tailgate" theme, so dress to represent your favorite team. Bring an appetizer or dessert to share. All are welcome! Starts at 7pm. Call me if you're interested in hosting a tailgate table, otherwise you get to listen to the Notre Dame Victory March every 15 minutes.

So Bill and Sherry Holleman (my in-laws) are staying at our home again this summer. They escape the 115-degree Arizona heat ("But it's a dry heat!" Grand Canyon State residents note, as if that somehow makes it tolerable) by retreating back to Birch Lake while my family moves over to Camp Tannadoonah.

Many may know Bill and Sherry from when they lived in the Cove about 25 years ago. Well, when Amber was about 7 years old she got an inflatable sailboat as a gift from her grandfather. So she and her dad entered the kids' regatta in this inflatable contraption. Unfortunately, they never made it out of the cove. They jumped out and swam the boat home. Sadly, this is far better than my own sailing skills. I'll stick to the committee boat for now.

Answer to last week's question:

Question: Why was the dam built across the outlet creek which flows between the Wozny/Rzeszewski proper-

Duffy's Artwork — Thanks to Duffy Dufor (east side) for the cool paintings ties on the southwest corner of the lake?

Answer: Many people think the dam was built to control the lake water level. This thought is incorrect. The dam was built to keep fish from escaping downstream to other lakes.

No Line Dance this week

There will be no line dance the week of June 18; it will resume June 25 at 9 am.

Sewer Plant Open House

Ever wonder how an effluent sewer plant works? The Porter Township Sewer Plant will have an open house June 22 from 10 am thru 2 pm. Refreshments will be provided.

Your Help is Needed!

The Sewer Department & Porter Township need your help! Please do not flush any type of wipes, diapers or feminine hygiene products into the sewer system. These items get tangled in the grinder pumps and in lift stations causing maintenance problems that could be avoided. Problems like this may cause replacing pumps or other mechanical parts which may necessitate increasing the maintenance rate. If problem causing items are not flushed into the system the cost of maintenance and thus the sewer maintenance rate may be maintained.

During a visit to my doctor, I asked him, "How do you determine whether or not an older person should be put in a long-term care home?"

"Well," he said, "we fill up a bathtub, then we offer a teaspoon, a teacup and a bucket to the person to empty the bathtub."

"Oh, I understand," I said. "A normal person would use the bucket because it is bigger than the spoon or the teacup."

"No" he said. "A normal person would pull the plug. Do you want a bed near the window?"

With the grace of the temperature and the winds, our fleet of Birch Lake sailors were finally able to sail the waters of Birch Lake.

In our first week out, saw many wind and lead changes along with a major drift of the committee boat. Fortunately our great CB crew of Bad Patty, Amy(my wife), Eric & Karen Miller, Bob Waddle, Neil Troeger and his friend Sara, got the boat back on track for the last race. Thanks to all.

We could use volunteers to help with the committee boat in the upcoming weeks! Please sign up it is a lot of fun!!!

~Health Tip~

Safe tick removal

Spring is here and the ticks will soon be showing their heads. Here is a good way to get them off you, your children, or your pets. Give it a try.

A School Nurse has written the info below — good enough to share — and it really works!

“I had a pediatrician tell me what she believes is the best way to remove a tick. This is great because it works in those places where it’s sometimes difficult to get to with tweezers: between toes, in the middle of a head full of dark hair, etc.”

“Apply a glob of liquid soap to a cotton ball. Cover the tick with the soap-soaked cotton ball and swab it for a few seconds (15-20); the tick will come out on its own and be stuck to the cotton ball when you lift it away.

This technique has worked every time I’ve used it (and that was frequently), and it’s much less traumatic for the patient and easier for me..”

Also, if you just pull a tick off, their heads sometimes break off and are left under the skin so this is much safer. Be aware also that a tick with a white speck on its back is a Deer Tick, these can cause Tick Fever so check yourself and your family good if you see any of these!

“Unless someone is allergic to soap, I can’t see that this would be damaging in any way.

~Health Tip 2~

It's duck itch season

Swimmer's itch, also known as lake itch, duck itch, cercarial dermatitis, and Schistosome cercarial dermatitis, is a short-term, immune reaction occurring in the skin of humans that have been infected by water-borne schistosomatidae. Symptoms, which include itchy, raised papules, commonly occur within hours of infection and do not generally last more than a week.

A number of different flatworm parasites in the family Schistosomatidae are what cause swimmer's itch. These parasites use both freshwater snails and vertebrates as hosts in their parasitic life cycles. Mostly waterfowl are used as the vertebrate host. During one of their life stages, the larvae of the parasite, cercaria, leave the water snails and swim freely in the freshwater, attempting to encounter water birds. These larvae can accidentally come into contact with the skin of a swimmer. The cercaria penetrates the skin and dies in the skin immediately. The cercaria larvae cannot infect humans, but they cause an inflammatory immune reaction. This reaction causes initially mildly itchy spots on the skin. Within hours, these spots become raised papules which are intensely itchy. Each papule corresponds to the penetration site of a single para-

The schistosomatidae that give rise to swimmer's itch should not to be confused with those of the genus Schistosoma, which infect humans and cause the serious human disease schistosomiasis, or with larval stages of thimble jellyfish (Linuche unguiculata), which give rise to seabather's eruption. Seabather's eruption mostly occurs in salt water, on skin covered by clothing or hair, whereas swimmer's itch mostly occurs in freshwater, on uncovered skin.

Since it was first described in Michigan in 1928, swimmer's itch has been reported from around the world. Some suggest incidence may be on the rise, although this may also be attributed to better monitoring.

Children may become infected more frequently and more intensely than adults but this probably reflects their tendency to swim for longer periods inshore, where cercariae also concentrate.

To prevent it, don't stand around in shallow, warm lake water. Staying out in somewhat deeper water and/or keeping moving such as when swimming, will usually prevent the parasites from getting you. When you or the kids get out of the water, towel off immediately with a strong rubbing motion and then shower with soap and hot water.

Swimmer's itch typically clears up on its own within a few days, though in some cases the rash can last up to a week. In the meantime, you can control itching with over-the-counter antihistamines or anti-itch creams, such as those that contain calamine lotion. If the itching is severe, your doctor may recommend a prescription medication.

Orally administered hydroxyzine, an antihistamine, is sometimes prescribed to treat swimmer's itch and similar dermal allergic reactions.

Stu's Star Stuff

Due to technical difficulties beyond our control, Stu's Star Stuff did not arrive at the Editor's email by deadline. Stu swears he emailed the column on Tuesday night, but because life gets in the way when you have to work real hours, at the last minute on Wednesday morning (minutes before the editor had to send the paper to the printer), he was unable to re-send it for publication.

So, in order to assuage the curiosity of Birch Lakers all over the lake who are anxious to learn what is going on with the stars this weekend, we decided to offer one sage piece of advice ... LOOK UP!

Camp Tannadoonah

Campers here this weekend

Camp is nearly here! Our first group of campers arrive at camp on Sunday afternoon. This first week of camp is All Star Sports Week, and we have 74 campers registered for the session. We plan to have lots of different sports activities for the campers to try. Our current total number of campers (as of Tuesday) is exactly 500! That puts us a little bit behind last year at this time, but we are starting to see an uptick in sign ups this week, so I am confident we will keep pace pretty well.

This past week we have been training our staff and preparing camp for the first group of campers. I think that this year's staff is going to be one of our best ever! We've had a great week filled with lots of learning, and tons of fun.

I tried to mix it up with staff training this year, and we turned the entire week into The Amazing Race, Camp Tannadoonah style. On Sunday afternoon when the staff arrived, we divided them into teams and started off with a race around camp. They had to solve puzzles, create a team name and cheer, follow clues to various locations throughout camp, take photos, and learn a camp song and chant that we perform each week.

On Monday, we taught them the rules, procedures, and policies in the staff manual by playing Staff Manual Jeopardy! In the afternoon they worked on setting up activities in camp, and making plans and goals for their activities. Monday night the entire staff got certified in first aid and CPR.

On Tuesday we had another race around camp, during which they got to experience a variety of daily activities at camp, including crafts, low ropes, nature, Gaga Ball, drama, and dance. At each location, they had to perform a task similar to something that campers might do at that activity during camp. Tuesday afternoon we practiced waterfront emergency procedures. After dinner we played lots of games that we typically do during our evening activities, such as Capture the Flag, Ball Wars, Big Base, Ride that Pony, Honey I Love You, and Pterodactyl.

On Wednesday we worked on various projects around camp in the morning, and had another race in the afternoon. They got to experience sports and games, geocaching, archery, and campcraft. That evening we cooked out for dinner, and sang camp songs around the fire afterwards.

Thursday was exciting because the counselors got to move into their cabins and get to know their co-counselors better. This group is particularly neat because of how well they all seem to be getting along so far. Thursday night we had another Amazing Race event, this time at the waterfront. We got to test out the new Stand Up Paddleboards (SUPs), and had SUP races, blindfolded canoe races, swimming relays, and a kayak obstacle course.

And on Friday we finished cleaning up and setting up camp, and had the finale of our Amazing Race. At the finish line, each team had to build a fire and make it big enough to burn through a string. The staff seemed to respond really well to the competitive aspect of the games and events, and had a lot of fun while learning all the things they need to know when campers arrive!

One side note: In the camp fire newsletter that went out at the end of May, I accidentally put the wrong date for the pancake breakfast! The correct date is Sunday, July 7th.
